Salisbury Planning Manager Preston Mitchell completes LGFCU Fellows Leading for Results course

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – Preston Mitchell, planning and development manager for the City of Salisbury, successfully completed the Leading for Results program at the UNC School of Government as a Local Government Federal Credit Union (LGFCU) Fellow.

Mitchell was among 50 individuals from across North Carolina identified as emerging leaders in local government, and was selected in a competitive process that included over 175 applicants to the program.

The Leading for Results program focuses on organizational leadership. Participants were introduced to models of leadership as well as management and leadership tools and strategies. LGFCU Fellows had the opportunity to gain insight into their individual leadership styles and strengths and practice ways to increase their effectiveness within their organizations.

Mitchell has been with the City of Salisbury since 2004. He holds a bachelor's degree in urban studies from the College of Charleston, and was recently credentialed as a LEED Green Associate through the US Green Building Council (USGBC).

Established in 1931 as the Institute of Government, the School of Government provides educational, advisory, and research services for state and local governments. Visit www.sog.unc.edu or call (919) 966-5381 for more information on the School's courses, publications, programs, and services.

The City of Salisbury, America's first 10-gigabit city, is located in the heart of the Piedmont region of North Carolina, midway between Charlotte and Greensboro. Salisbury is the county seat of Rowan County, and provides a full range of municipal services, including law enforcement, fire protection, zoning and code enforcement and water and sewer systems.
